Study abroad feeling

The beginning of the story was always full of twists and turns, because of the epidemic, visa to deal with difficult, friends and family had also been advised me to give up the opportunity to Japan, I also thought of retreat, but out of curiosity for Japan, also for the dreams of the Nagasaki University in visa for the first time, so I came to Japan. Time passed quickly, as if yesterday I just pushed the suitcase to Nagasaki, in an instant it was time to say goodbye. In retrospect, it was an irreplaceable and rewarding year in my life.

When I came to Nagasaki after the quarantine, TO tell the truth, I was a little disappointed. It was not so prosperous as I imagined. Compared with China, there were fewer modern high-rise buildings, but there were not so many people crowded, and it was more quiet and peaceful. The wonderful dormitory environment, the friendly teachers and friends, and the blue sky were the beginning of my life in Nagasaki.

Due to the epidemic, I began to attend classes through ZOOM and LACS at first, and gradually began to attend classes face to face. I still remember the panic when I couldn't find the classroom for the first time. Although sometimes will still can't find the classroom until now, but gradually familiar with Nagasaki's study life, also be familiar with the various styles of the teacher, cool Professor Nishikawa, severe Professor Nakamura, always like to let us do the PPT to share, very kind Professor Omine, etc., with the help of teachers and classmates, I have learned a lot of new knowledge, broadened my horizon, broadened my thinking, and made my research subject can be carried on steadily.

In addition to studying, I also experienced more wonderful life after school in Nagasaki, whether it was the Chinatown I often go to, the best night view of Inasayama through the cable car, the sea I saw during hiking, or the beach of Iojima Island by ferry, all these beautiful scenery and experiences were unforgettable for me. Of course, The most unforgettable was in March to took us to Unzen for a study trip, there was a lot of first time ah, the first time to see so many so beautiful cherry blossoms; To see a volcano up close and hear its story for the first time; The first time to soak in a hot spring; The first time I met a wild dolphin face to face, sitting on a boat, surrounded by the dolphins accompanying me, and the sea in the distant blue sky, the memory of that moment was always worth remembering.

Parting always comes inadvertently, it's time to say goodbye to Nagasaki, life is such a stop-and-go. I would like to express my special thanks to Mr. Zhu for his patient help, to Mr. Jiang for his careful guidance on my project, and every teacher and classmate. Thank you for your help. The experience in Nagasaki will be a lifetime experience for me, the parting is only temporary, one day I will come back here, but it will be a new story, looking forward to the day of goodbye. Thanks, Nagasaki!
